

What A Delightful Surprise!

RHYTHMIC CIRCUS RED & GREEN

by Kat Rowoldt

I received two complimentary tickets to attend an event at the new San Angelo Performing Arts Center, 2017-2018 season. Media were given free tickets to various upcoming shows at their Press Conference. My tickets were to see Carroll Spinney, the one and only Big Bird. Unfortunately, his performance was cancelled, but I was able to exchange my tickets.

I have no clue why I chose Rhythmic Circus Red & Green out of the amazing list of performances coming to San Angelo, but I am glad I did. It was totally different. A fabulous way to kick-off the holiday season. Plus, my husband even enjoyed it. There were kids from 2 months to 92 years in attendance - and everyone seemed to have a great time.

The energy was high, the sound was just right, the time moved quickly, and then suddenly it was over. Oddly, so many of the people I knew were discussing how tired they were from just watching all the energy used throughout the performance. That was a real compliment to the team performing.

I highly recommend checking out any of the upcoming events. It's going to be a grand season!

